NAT2022 Conference

The North American Tunneling Conference is the premier biennial tunneling event for North America. This year, the event took place in Philadelphia, PA, U.S. from the 19th - 22nd June 2022, with more than a thousand attendees from around the world, and 150 exhibiting companies.

After a few years of slow output, the tunneling market now seems to be bustling with many projects accelerating through design and a number already out to construction.

Maxwell GeoSystems has already established footprints in this exciting market, with recently completed projects in Los Angeles, CA, U.S. (LA Metro) and Washington DC, U.S. (DC Water - North East), along with newly secured projects in Cleveland, OH, U.S (Shoreline Project) and in Toronto, Canada (Eglinton Cross West Extension).

Stay tuned for more updates on projects Maxwell GeoSystems is actively involved in.
